André Joyau

Art stylishly imitates life in this designer's polished steel table with walnut legs. A rural Frenchman who moved to New York City, he blends French Country with the latest in Brooklyn urban-industrial chic. Handmade of walnut, the table's disorganized-yet-architectural legs are designed to exude an air of disorder. 20 Van Dam Street, Brooklyn, NY 11222; 718-963-2616. circle 443

Tuell+Reynolds

Elegant in proportion and attitude, the Shinjuku table's cast-bronze tiers create a big burst of energy for this small piece. Iron legs with a patina bronze top help achieve this fetching table's lean, and clean look. 52 Front Street, Healdsburg, CA 95448; 707-431-0521; tuellreynolds.com. circle 448

Baronet

Braskia 80 case goods and furniture—as hot as South America in summer—are made from solid maple with birch veneer. The multiple-drawer dressers, audio bookcases, media stands, night tables, and platform bed in this collection feature mortise-and-tenon and dovetail joints, leveling feet, and cast-metal handles. Choose from chocolate finish on maple or anthracite finish. 234 Rue Baronet, C.P. 580, Sainte-Marie, Quebec, Canada G6E 3B8; 418-387-5431; baronet.ca. circle 447

Nucraft Furniture Company

For high-powered summits or informal meetings that need a bit of pomp, the Mural wall system supports an array of plasma screens, projection systems, and computers. Elegantly concealed wires are easily accessed in reconfigurable channels and columns. Optional sconces, whiteboards, and shelving are available. Standard finishes offered include maple, cherry, walnut, or oak, in 17 stains; custom finishes may be ordered as well. 5151 West River Drive, Comstock Park, MI 49321; 877-682-7238; nucraft.com. circle 444

Donghia

Sick of media saturation? Escape relieves the pressure. Large enough to house giant plasma monitors, these units also feature cabinets with glass-paneled sides, wire-management systems, and clear-glass-fronted drawers that allow remote-control signals through. This modern classic is available in two sizes and finishes, and is made of limed or pickled oak with brushed-nickel or brass hardware. 485 Broadway, New York, NY 10013; 800-366-4442; donghia.com. circle 445

John Boone

The breathtaking Stanley pedestal dining table is a clean and expansive addition to the Lockwood/Boone collection. This attention-grabbing table features a box-matched veneer top and base, sunburst border, and veneer sabre legs, all in zebra wood, as well as black lacquer detailing.
